JET SET STEFANO

The Actor Has Landed

After more travels than Carmen Sandiego, cosmopolitan thespian Stefano Giulianetti has finally returned to his home base in Vancouver, BC. In this exclusive (and rare) interview, Giulianetti explains to our roving reporter just what he's been up to.

Much Ado: From the looks of it you've been quite busy, why don't we start from the beginning of the year.

Stefano Giulianetti: Yes, in January I was asked to perform in one of Canada's most exciting and important performing arts festivals; The 17th Annual One Yellow Rabbit High Performance Rodeo.

MA: What did you do there?

SG: I played Heathcliff in the premiere of "The Heights," - a gritty urban adaptation of Emily Brontë's "Wuthering Heights" - alongside performer and writer Nicole Zylstra. The show was both well attended and received.

MA: Then you were off to Toronto, is that right?

SG: Not only Toronto, but all over Southern Ontario and Montreal as well.

MA: Do tell!

SG: Along with Actor Zahf Paroo, I produced and performed in a sketch comedy show that toured the region playing everything from Comedy Clubs to Cathedrals. The other performers were Calgary's Nicole Zylstra and Toronto's Dorothy Heal, so getting everyone organized from across Canada was a challenge. But we garnered sponsorship from DAYS HOTEL, got a van and a genuine Rock n' Roll Roadie and we were on our way. A documentary crew from the LIFE network followed us on this "Road to Funny" and the ensuing one-hour television special will air on LIFE in September 2003.

MA: So...are you back for good?

SG: I'm back baby!
