OCTOBER 2004

Actor Stefano Giulianetti

CHRISTMAS IN KAMLOOPS

Stefano Giulianetti's busy schedule of acting, teaching, producing and promoting theatre has been key in preparing himself for the important job of Santa's Chief of Staff in Western Canada Theatre's upcoming production of Dear Santa by Norm Foster.

Imagine the beleaguered CEO of a massive multi-national on the eve of its biggest shipment of the year; hurtling towards deadline, juggling obstacles, obligations and even an angst-ridden teenager with an unusual Christmas wish. Now imagine that same CEO in a red suit and a floppy elf hat, all held together by Algernon Gladstone Chief of Staff (Giulianetti). Norm Foster's Dear Santa is a wild ride of riotous fun!

Stefano hopes to one day take over the North Pole and work only one day a year.

The show runs at Kamloops' Sagebrush Theatre December 4 -11 (Tickets: 1-866-374-5483). Opening night flowers and gifts can be sent to Stefano Giulianetti c/o WCTC.

La Dolce Vespa?

There have been many rumors in the tabloids this summer targeting the whereabouts of Vancouver Actor Stefano Giulianetti. Sightings have placed him on anything from jetpacks to public transit. We at 'Much Ado About Me', are proud to dispel those rumors and explain that he has been travelling about town on his White 1983 Vespa Scooter (shown here). The vehicle reportedly travels at speeds in excess of 80km/hr, which explains the blurred photos.

We are also very pleased to announce that the Mediterranean actor will be travelling to Italy this October, apparently to meet with casting agents and directors in Rome and Milan.

When asked if he will be taking his Vespa to Italy with him he said: "No. That would be silly, stop bothering me."

FO Sure!

The Italian Cultural Institute, in association with BellaLuna Productions presents a one-day workshop with Mario Pirovano, Italian protégé of Nobel Prize-winning Playwright Dario Fo Sunday November 14th at the Scotiabank Centre. Mario Pirovano will be in town to perform "Johan Padan and the Discovery of America" by Dario Fo at UBC's Frederic Wood Theatre November 12th & 13th (7:30pm).
